Tower Of Musical Power

Sunday, July 25, 2010 – 7:30pm to 10:30pm

7:30 to 7:50 pm – Randall Kirby

Singer/songwriter Randall Kirby offers fresh new ways of exploring the basic themes of looking for love, being in love and the empty places that fall in between. He and his writing partner Brian L. Foley's musical ideas are clever, catchy and romantic. Critics agree Randall and Brian have an uncommon way of writing love song lyrics that put what a man wants to say into the words a woman wants to hear.

8:00 to 8:50 pm – Dave Morrison

Long one of L.A.s most beloved singer-songwriters, Dave Morrison has really hit his stride. His 2007 release "A Little Farther Down the Line", garnered airplay around the world and unanimous praise from critics. American Songwriter Magazine gave the album a five-star review and found room for it on their year-end list of best albums. Usually appearing with multi-instrumentalist Greg Krueger, and stunning harmony vocalist Lisa Turner, Dave has been playing to wildly enthusiastic crowds. His live album, "Shout at The Moon", is scheduled for release this summer. <http://www.myspace.com/davemorrisonmusic>.

9:00 to 9:50 pm – Tracy Newman & The Reinforcements

Tracy is a TV writer and producer. She has written on many shows, including Cheers, The Nanny and Drew Carey. In 1997, she won the Emmy and the prestigious Peabody Award for co-writing the "coming out" episode of Ellen. In 2001 she co-created the ABC comedy, According to Jim (Jim Belushi,) which recently finished its 8th and final season of production. Tracy has been a songwriter throughout her TV career and recently released her first CD, "A Place in the Sun." The incredible musicians that back Tracy are: Gene Lippmann, Rebecca Leigh, John Cartwright, John O'Kennedy and Doug Knoll.
